- "Lifetime" means a period ending seven (7) years after Big Ass Solutions discontinues manufacturing the product, as such period is defined by Big Ass Solutions, but in no event shall this period be less than the number of years defined under "Motor, drive, controller," from the date that the Warranty Period commences.
- The Factory Install Warranty Period requires purchased installation by a factory-approved, Big Ass Solutions certified installer and the submission of installation documentation by such installer.
- The 1-Year Labor applies to non-residential installations only.
- The Non-Factory Install Warranty Period, as defined above, applies to proper installations by any other state-qualified or licensed electrical contractor. The Warranty is void in its entirety if the product is installed by personnel other than a state-qualified or licensed contractor. Warranty information provided here applies to new units only and does not pertain to refurbished units.
- The warranty period for the Yellow Jacket Oscillator Accessory and the AirGo and Yellow Jacket Misting System is one (1) year for parts.

What is covered?

This Warranty covers any defects in materials or workmanship under normal use and maintenance that adversely affect the ability of the fan to operate properly when the product is installed correctly according to Big Ass Solutions' written installation instructions by a state qualified or licensed electrical contractor and operated pursuant to these instructions, and when such fans are purchased directly from Big Ass Solutions or a Big Ass Solutions Authorized Dealer. This Limited Warranty is subject to all provisions, conditions, limitations, and exclusions described within this document. This warranty is limited solely to products purchased directly from the Big Ass Solutions family
